

PEDIATRIC THERAPEUTICS HALLOWEEN MATCHING GAME!

Match the halloween memory to the therapist! (answers at the bottom)

Her favorite costume is a black cat because she LOVES cats.

Her favorite candy to get as a kid was an Almond Joy because she loves coconut and dark chocolate together.

She loves to share original candy corn with her daughter.

She has a fond memory of when her daughter was Simba and her son was Murray from the Wiggles, complete with a guitar.

She remembers being newly pregnant while constructing a Snow White costume for her daughter. Who knew BOTH girls would love Snow White so much?!

She loves a Take 5 bar.

He remembers trick or treating with his two young daughters when one daughter danced in someone's foyer and the other grabbed an entire bowl of treats.

Her favorite memory is when she turned her son's stroller into a Thomas the Tank Engine costume to participate in the local town parade...He is still into Engineering today!

As a child, she trick or treated with her dad and brother on a snowy evening. After slipping and spilling all her candy, her Dad saved the day AND the candy by using a flashlight to find it all!

She remembers 'Snowtober 2011,' when Mother Nature postponed Halloween. We celebrated as a community one week later. Who knew holidays could be rescheduled?!

Missy - black cat, Anne T. - Almond Joys, Karen - candy corn, Carrie - Simba, Maureen - Snow White, Miriam - Take 5, Scott - dancing daughter, Anne B. - Thomas the Tank Engine, Sheila - dad saved the day, Mary - Snowtober